

Fired official asks Browndale probe

by Gerald Utting
Star staff writer

A former employee of Browndale (Ontario) Ltd., has called on Attorney-General Roy McMurtry to investigate the financial operations of the organization which looks after about 300 mentally disturbed children in about 50 group homes in Ontario.

The Ministry of Health pays $65 a day for treatment and housing for each child through its children's mental health services branch. Currently, the cost of the Browndale programs to the province is running at more than $7 million a year.

A spokesman for Browndale (Ontario) said the organization would not comment at present but might after it had obtained a copy of Sorbie's affidavit.

A spokesman for McMurtry said the attorney-general has received Sorbie's affidavit and officials will study it.

In a sworn declaration sent to the attorney-general, Ian Sorbie of Peterborough says that, although a board of directors was supposed to have taken over authority for the company's operations in 1973, real control is exercised by John Brown, Browndale's founder, and his wife, Debby.

INTERLOCKING SERIES

Sorbie said that as an employee, even though he was one of the corporation's board of directors, he was unable to obtain meaningful financial information on Browndale's operations. He said this was because it is part of an interlocking series of companies, including one the operates group homes in the United States and another that acquires property for Browndale.

"My most serious unanswered financial questions relate to the basis upon which property is acquired and utilized within the Browndale structure," his sworn declaration says.

Sorbie attached to the declaration a copied list of property owned in Ontario by Brown Camps Residential and Day Schools, one of the Browndale group, that set the value of Browndale owned property in Ontario at $2.9 million.

The former employee, who said he was fired Jan. 6 as assistant director of the Brown (Ontario) operations in the Peterborough area after a long series of disputes with head office in Toronto, raised the issue of whether the Brown organization is a charitable venture or whether some people could benefit by its real estate transactions.

Eakins queries minister

PCV holders get assurances

Some adjustment of boundaries covering PCV licence holders in Southern Haliburton County might not meet with strenuous objection at Queen's Park.

MPP John F. Eakins received assurance that any good reason for boundary adjustment would be entertained by Minister of Transportation J.W. Snow in reply to a supplementary question tabled in the legislature.

Here is the dialogue as recorded in Ontario's Hansard on the question and the answer:

"Mr. Eakins: Supplementary, Mr. Speaker: Would the minister consider south boundary adjustments, where there are obvious problems, where people live close to the boundary.

I'm thinking of lower section of Haliburton where they are oriented to the south. Would the minister consider some boundary boundaries of the five regions established by our ministry. If there was some good reason to adjust a particular boundary for this purpose, if it would simplify matters, I wouldn't be against doing so. But I am sure that if we moved a boundary over one township or one county, or whatever it may be, we would only then create the same situation on the next line, and I would far sooner deal with this particular problem. It's not something new. It's something that we knew was there when the legislation was passed. It was discussed here in the House. I gave assurances at that time and I am sure if we look in Hansard those assurances are still there.

Kinmount

Post office raided

Kinmount Post Office is open for business as usual today but replacement of a quarter-inch plate glass window in the outer door will be necessary before it is in quite the same condition as when it closed for the day Saturday.

Postmaster George Sunberg, formerly of the Lindsay Post Office, says the attempt to break into the office ended with the smashing of the lower window of the outer door. There was an inner door which stood between whoever shattered the outer door and whatever loot that might have been obtainable. Speculation is that the culprit(s) took flight after breaking the glass.

Mr. Sunberg says the incident occurred sometime between closing Saturday and Sunday morning. He also noted that considerable force would be required to break the thick glass.

Area lakes surveyed

Staff from the Gravenhurst Office of the Ministry of the Environment recently surveyed Bala Bay, Dark, Silver, Gull and Three Mile Lakes in the District Municipality of Muskoka and Gull Lake in the County of Haliburton. They found 36 per cent of the disposal systems to be satisfactory, 21 per cent seriously substandard, 35 per cent nuisances, 1 per cent direct polluters and 7 per cent unclassified.

All cottages with systems classified as nuisances or direct polluters were requested to take corrective action. Some cottagers have already corrected their systems while many others have signed agreements to carry out abatement procedures this summer. A small percentage are still to be interviewed by Ministry Staff and corrective action will be decided upon at that time.

At present, there are over 250,000 private cottages in Ontario and the Lakes Program will eventually ensure that all private sewage treatment systems meet the standards required by the Ministry.

Lindsay man found guilty in UIC fraud

A Lindsay man, Wayne Denney was fined $150.00 or 30 days in default by Judge L.T.G. Collins.

On the 18th March, 1976, Denney was found guilty of false statements in connection with his Unemployment Insurance claim involving particulars of employment.

School supports skat-a-thon

This week the Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden has thrown their full support behind the Minden Rotary Skate-A-Thon to be held April 9th - 10th in the Minden Arena. The pupils are around gathering pledges in the area during the school break. Numerous students from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School are also entered in the Skate-A-Thon and it is expected that support will increase from the school by next week. Bill Scott, M.P. and John Eakins, M.P.P. along with Minden Council will be in attendance on April 9th.

Stolen cars recovered

During the past three weeks there have been two vehicles stolen from the Haliburton County area, one vehicle stolen from the Village of Haliburton and the other from Minden. The first vehicle was recovered by the London Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police and two juveniles have been charged in connection with the theft, and the second vehicle was recovered by Lindsay Police with no one being charged as yet. In both of the above cases the owners had left the vehicles unlocked with the keys remaining in the ignition. A car stolen from the Lindsay area was also recovered near Minden on Friday, March 19th, by a member of the Minden O.P.P. Detachment Staff.

The Ontario Provincial Police would like to remind motorists to take their keys out of the ignition, lock their vehicles and take the keys with them at all times. One of the vehicles that was stolen was taken in only a few seconds as the owner had gone into a store and was gone only for a minute.

Glen Hodgson

Hodgson dinner

Tickets for the "Glen Hodgson Appreciation Night" were sold out almost as soon as they became available. The dinner, which will feature Premier William G. Davis is to be held at Wig-A-Mog Inn, in honour of Glen's contribution during 12 years as M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton.

The Tory riding executive indicates an unprecedented demand for the tickets arose as soon as the announcement was released. Tickets will not be available at the door and the executive regrets that many Tory supporters will be disappointed since only 175 persons could be accommodated.

Friends of Glen and Shirley are coming from all over the riding as well as Ottawa and Toronto. Several M.P.'s have also indicated that they will be attending.

Cottage vandals charged

Two young Tecumseh men were given suspended sentences and placed on probation for three years with conditions when they were convicted of break, enter and theft charges in Lindsay Provincial Court.

The incidents involved a number of Minden area cottages. The terms of probation include a curfew and are accompanied by orders to make restitution in the amount of $960 - $480, each.

Haliburton Midgets tied with South River entry

Bernie Nicholls

Haliburton with the series within their grasp were once again roped in their game played up at South River last week. The strong play of our boys just wouldn't hold up and South River came away with the game and a 4-3 score. This win thus gave South River five points, and it tied the series at five points each.

Haliburton hasn't played one game of this whole series with a full team due to game misconducts, sickness and other circumstances, but they have held in there. Coach Gary McKnight brought in Bantam players to fill in the gap and these youngsters have held up their end real well. Bernie Nicholls and defenseman Ed Roberts have played strong along side of this solid Midget club.

In the last game goaltender Dale LaPorte was caught on a slashing call and will be missing for the big game here on Wednesday night.

Chris Roberts a fine goalie himself will be playing the twine. At press time the management is trying to have this sentence disallowed, but no word has come back as of yet.

The boys should be up for this encounter and a win is a must, if they are to repeat last years feats. The support for this club has been really strong both at the home gate and away games.

Let's all get out and cheer this team to victory here Wednesday night at 8 p.m. in the local Arena.

Along the Trails Roy Bates

WHERE HAS ALL THE WINTER GONE?

Less than a week ago there was no indication of a spring breakup, but in one weekend the snow has dropped to half its depth, creeks are full and the lakes are awash. It's a time of year when snowmobilers must exercise extreme caution. Lake ice can be eroded thin adjacent to inlets and outlets. Drainage courses in the woods can wash the bottom out of trails in unexpected places. Ice on streams and beaver ponds will deteriorate rapidly. A sudden drop in temperature may slow the run-off, but the transition to Spring has started. In order to enjoy the last ride of the season, snowmobilers must be ready to cope with the special hazards. You can't be too careful.

SNOWMOBILE AMBULANCE

Several snowmobile clubs in Ontario have provided, or helped to provide, specially equipped sleighs for use in the emergency treatment and transportation of snowmobile accident victims. I am told the Minden ambulance service now has such a device. There is not one at Haliburton. I would hope the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association might spearhead a move to have every ambulance service in the county so equipped. By drawing upon the fund-raising abilities of the various Service Clubs this should not be a difficult task.

Such a sleigh would have come in handy on Saturday afternoon, March 20th, when the Haliburton Ambulance was called to an accident some three miles into the woods East of Lochlin. Fortunately, this time the injuries were not so critical that the victim could not be carried out on the seat of a snowmobile.

A Scarborough woman with several years of snowmobiling experience and many hundreds of miles behind her, including Snowarama for Timmy, was the victim of mild weather snow conditions. With a group of ten or more machines, riding a little-used ungroomed trail on which the surface was softened by two days of thawing, the lady's machine ploughed through the crust in one of those deep pitch-holes. She was thrown off, apparently striking her head on some part of the vehicle sustaining probable concussion complicated by a mild heart attack.

Luckily, the trail intersected within another hundred yards a Bombi-groomed route that was a real time-saver in getting to a phone to call for help. Within minutes the Ambulance was on its way. An attendant carrying a portable oxygen supply was taken to the scene by snowmobile, the lady was revived and brought out safely.

Our hats are off to the ambulance drivers for their fast and efficient service. Now let us help to provide them with the proper tools to cope with any emergency along the trails.

HCSA DANCES FOR PLEASURE NOT PROFIT

Usually very successful with its social events, the Association was able to attract only forty couples to the dance March 20th at the Haliburton Legion.

Everyone had a good time, however. Enough money changed hands to cover the expenses, so no loss was suffered. But neither was there any appreciable profit.

The Association was looking to this dance to provide at least one payment on their Bombi. They are not going to give up. Another dance will be scheduled soon, another raffle will get under way, other fund-raising ideas will be put to work. The Bombi will be paid for - and maybe a second one for next year.

Natural Resources Tournament set

Obrey Gostlin one of the organizers of the upcoming Natural Resources Hockey Tournament informs us that everything is well underway for a successful tournament that is to be held next week commencing April 1 to April 3 at Minden Community Centre.

Last year Minden's entry were the "B" overall champs and they will be going all out to accomplish the same feat.

This year the competition will be a little stiffer as new teams from larger areas are entered but this should make a better all around tournament.

Below is a schedule of Teams and times involved and with the lodging and restaurant and other businesses that these clubs will support it will be to all a beneficial weekend if we support this event. This tournament will not only put up good hockey entertainment, but showing of good sportsmanship with fellow employees of Natural Resources should be apparent.

Ice station drifting "off course"

A joint Canada-United States research ice station on the Arctic pack ice, occupied since spring, has surprised its occupants and other scientists by drifting far from the course it was expected to take. Instead of moving roughly southwestward, from the Canadian into the United States sector of the Arctic Ocean, it spent only a short time in the U.S. sector and is now back well into the Canadian sector, and still drifting eastward at an accelerated pace.

The station is the major 1975 undertaking of the Canada-U.S. Arctic Ice Dynamics Joint Experiment (AIDJEX), a long-term project aimed at understanding the interaction between air and ice in the Arctic, and its effect on the North American climate. Situated on a level stretch of Arctic pack ice, the station has a complement of over 30 scientists and assistants. It is supplied by air. The Canadian contingent is operating under the auspices of the Polar Continental Shelf Project, a branch of EMR.

The drift of the pack ice is caused by winds, which this year have unexpectedly blown from the northwest rather than from the east, as expected. As a result of the abnormal wind direction the pack ice has moved south against the mainland coast, closing the sea lanes to Prudhoe Bay, Alaska, the site of a major oil discovery.

Mammal Fossils in Arctic indicate link with Europe

Two American scientists, operating with the support of the Polar Continental Shelf Project, EMR, have discovered fossilized bones of mammals and reptiles on Ellesmere Island, the northernmost island of the Canadian Arctic Archipelago. The fossils are estimated to be about 50 million years old, and are of a type that is also known from Western Europe. This, according to the discoverers, indicates a link between Europe and North America, the last such connection between the two continents before they moved apart.

Mammal Fossils in Arctic

The two scientists are Dr. Mary R. Dawson, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Dr. Robert M. West, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The discovery also shows that the climate in what is now Ellesmere Island was once much warmer, as reptiles are unable to exist in Arctic conditions.

Geological discovery starts "Mini-rush"

The discovery of copper mineralization in a remote region of the Northwest Territories has started what one knowledgeable observer termed a "mini-rush" by mining companies.

The copper-bearing formation is located in the Redstone River area, about 600 kilometres west of Yellowknife. The grade of the copper ore is not yet known.

The news about the discovery was released by the Geological Survey of Canada, EMR, in late August, and a month later close to 200 claims had been registered with the mining recorder's office in Yellowknife.

Cloudy Quebec

Central Quebec appears to be the wettest place in Canada during the summer - at least from a satellite's view. In preparing a photomap of the area from three years of satellite imagery taken during July and August, EMR's Surveys and Mapping Branch personnel could not eliminate the cloud patches that dot the interior, and only imagery, taken in August, 1975, showed the tip of Ungava free of cloud. The new photomap, covering an area from the Atlantic to Hudson Bay and from the southern edge of Labrador to Hudson Strait, will be on sale in October from the National Air Photo Library. It is one of a series of 12 photomaps designed to show a virtually cloud-free Canada.

Anticosti accuracy

More accurate maps for the hunter and fisherman using Quebec provincial lands on Anticosti Island will be one outcome of federal survey field work during the past summer. EMR's Survey and Mapping Branch, acting on a request from the government of Quebec, established the precise height above sea level of 87 points on the island and precise latitude and longitude of 10 others - all information essential to mapping. The island, bought recently by Quebec from a lumber firm, is famous for its deer and salmon. Map improvements planned by the province for the island should encourage use of this recreational area.

Canada at 1:1,000,000

Canada will now be mapped entirely to the pole in the World International Map format and at a scale of 1:1,000,000, following a change in policy by EMR's Surveys and Mapping Branch - the federal government's chief mapping agency. The branch to date has been producing such topographic maps for Canada south of 56 degrees. Only aeronautical charts showed the northern part to this scale. Now, spurred on by the need for geological base mapping of the north, the branch will continue the series to the pole. The task began with the branch's latest map publication, Macmillan River and Slave River, and could be completed by 1980.

Geophysical survey in Hudson Bay

A joint project to measure the gravity and geomagnetic fields and water depths of Hudson Bay began this year under EMR's Earth Physics Branch and Environment Canada's Hydrographic Service - Central region. This information is essential to resource exploration and development in the area, to our knowledge of the subsurface characteristics and structure of the area, and the federal government's inventory of geophysical characteristics of Canada's offshore. In 1975 the surveying party made several widely spaced traverses across Hudson Bay and will spend the next four years adding to this network of readings.

Fiji - a name of the North

Northern Canada gathered its legends and settlers from all over the world - a fact reflected by its place names. An example is Jim Fiji Harbour on the Admundsen Gulf, named for James Asasela, a native of Samoa. Asasela arrived in Canada's north as a sailor on the vessel Polar Bear and remained as a trapper. He was met by Stefansson who travelled in the Arctic during 1913-1919.

Did you know?

That some of Canada's aeronautical charts must be updated and reissued every 28 days to assure safety in our skyways.

There are about 291,570 square miles of fresh water in Canada.

The highest city in Canada is Rossland, B.C. at 3,465 feet.

Few dollars spent can save hundreds

The fact that "good care means better wear" should be reason enough to have a car checked over for safe operation this spring, yet the Canada Safety Council predicts that some forty per cent of all Canadian drivers will neglect even the most basic maintenance once a new car warranty has expired.

The attitude sometimes seems to indicate "the warranty's over, so it won't last long now anyway -- Not worth spending money on" and may have been encouraged by past sales campaigns to create a desire for the newest and best.

Now, car owners are asking for vehicles that last longer, according to some industry spokesmen. Not all of them realize that a car will only last longer if given a reasonable amount of care and attention. In recent years, the Safety Council has been emphasizing the many easy checks that each driver can do without any specialized training or knowledge, but it should also be remembered that some items do require expert knowledge, and all cars should be inspected at least twice a year by a qualified mechanic.

Preventive maintenance is "defensive maintenance" according to Council spokesman Ed Hession, who adds that "a few dollars spent in prevention can save hundreds in costly repairs, and will make a car wear better through the years".

With all of Canada caught in a prices/income squeeze, that piece of advice seems more important than ever before!

New control equipment at steel mill in Whitby

A $3.15 million control system, approved by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment, has significantly reduced emissions of visible dust from Lake Ontario Steel Company Ltd. since its installation in late 1975. P.G. Cockburn Central Region director for the Ministry announced today.

The control equipment consists of a bag collector and was installed to control the highly visible emissions from the plant's two electric arc steel melting furnaces. The bag collector works much like a giant sieve, filtering exhaust gases and shaking the collected particulate matter into a storage bin.

Additional fume collecting hoods are to be installed during the plant vacation shutdown this summer to collect any remaining emissions.

The Vankoughnet Rd

When they were building the Vankoughnet Road from Carnarvon to Bracebridge it was advertised as a short cut into the Muskokas. It's a short cut alright, and it's a good highway with a great many straight stretches, with not too many curves.

It was a good idea to build this highway, but one thing we can't understand, and that is the fact that it's not kept in very good condition during the winter months.

Many people who have used this highway this winter, told us that it never seems to be sanded, and some people have refused to drive on it in the wintertime.

The Echo are aware of the hazards of driving in the winter months as our truck makes a weekly run to Bracebridge, and we can tell you, that we have had some really rough trips over icy roads on the Vankoughnet.

It's fine and dandy to construct these super highways, but in doing so, they should be sanded and maintained during the slippery season.

Cansave Children

CANSAVE CHILDREN rushed $5,000 Cdn. from its emergency fund earlier this month to assist earthquake victims in Guatemala.

The funds were channelled through CANSAVE's international affiliate, the Save the Children Fund, to provide medical supplies and food for immediate use by the SCF team in the devastated San Martin area.

The SCF team located at San Martin on February 8th, at the request of the Guatemalan Ministry of Health.

CANSAVE CHILDREN will continue to offer aid for rehabilitation and rebuilding through Campagne Canada Campaign - Guatemala.

CANSAVE's American affiliate, the Save the Children Federation, has also launched an emergency fund for relief and rehabilitation of earthquake victims, which will be administered through the Save the Children Fund. Senor Andy Rubi, SCF program director in Honduras, is at present in Guatemala to assess major relief and rehabilitation needs.

Fire Season April 1st

Len Sleeman, director of the Ministry of Natural Resources Forest Fire Control Branch in Toronto, isn't just sitting on his laurels waiting for Thursday, April 1 to arrive.

He knows it's April Fool's Day. But it won't take him or his staff by surprise. They've been gearing up all winter for the forest fires they know will eventually come. Because, besides being a traditional day of surprises, April 1 also marks the start of Ontario's fire season which officially lasts until Sunday, October 31 -- and another special day -- Halloween.

Forest fires don't come lightly. It costs Ontario approximately $16 million to fight its fires in an average season. And in 1975, when 250,000 acres of dried out spruce and jackpine were destroyed, it cost the province close to $20 million.

But like all firemen, Sleeman is ready and so is his regular staff of five in the Provincial Forest Fire Centre at Queen's Park -- fire control supervisor John Goodman, fire management education co-ordinator Bruce Little, fire operations supervisor John Walker, research and development officer Jerry Drysdale, and communications unit supervisor John Azevedo.

"We won't know what the recent warm spell means in terms of spring fire hazard until we know what kind of breakup there will be," Goodman says.

"But there's no doubt about it. Snow depths, at the moment, are below normal for this time of year. And snow depths having a bearing on fire severity in the spring. If we get a normal snowfall in March and normal spring breakup, we may not be greatly affected."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

All residents of Haliburton, including the cottagers, will I am sure be anxiously awaiting the decision of the Ontario Municipal Board regarding the appeal for a change in the equalization of assessment in the Haliburton School Area.

Unfortunately someone has spread a rumour that the Haliburton Highlands Property Owners Council is supporting the Municipality of Dysart et al, in their opposition to any change in the equalization.

We wish your readers to know that this is completely false, and in fact is silly. Since the members of our Council reside in every Municipality in Haliburton, there is no way we could support either side of this controversy. Our executive rejected a motion to support Dysart in October 1975.

On a different subject, however, we were happy to support Dysart in their application for an Official Plan. We were elated when the present plan was finally adopted and intend to devote much effort in the future encouraging other Municipalities in Haliburton to produce suitable Official Plans. We think this is essential to the orderly development of this County.

Yours sincerely,
B.W. Robinson,
Secretary Treasurer,
Haliburton Highlands
Property Owners' Council

Editor:

I'm surprised that you would print a letter containing the inaccuracies and inferences that Carla Martin's, the former teacher did.

The Celsius degree is not 2.4 times larger than the Fahrenheit degree - it is 1.8 times larger. In trying to discredit the S.I. system she has exaggerated the difference by 60%. Secondly she apparently reverses the forecasts of the U.S. Weather Service. In that case she should know that, when forecasting temperatures, they always give a range of five Fahrenheit degrees (about 3 Celsius degrees) e.g. High 45 degrees to 50 degrees. I fail to see, in her arguments, the case for accuracy she is trying to make.

Without trying to argue the merits or demerits of the S.I. system, could you please ensure that future letters at least show the true facts, not one "opposition member's" concept of them.

Yours Sincerely,
J. Leworthy

The Ontario Medical Association today released the contents of a letter sent by its president to Premier Davis calling for consultation on the closing of hospitals.

Following is the letter:

Dear Mr. Premier:

I am writing to convey to you the grave concern of the physicians of Ontario over the manner in which your Government has reduced the projected expenditures of the Ministry of Health.

We are particularly anxious about the effects of unplanned closing of community hospitals on the health of the people served by the hospitals, on the employment of the highly skilled personnel working in the institutions, and on the future projects of communities without hospitals attracting resident physicians.

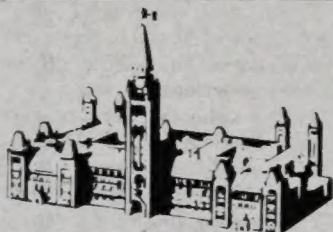

The Council of the Ontario Medical Association, with representation from across the Province, has unanimously deplored the projected closing of Doctors Hospital, and has been strongly critical of the arbitrary closing of other hospitals. The Council recommends a reappraisal of revenues, expenditures and utilization within the health care delivery system.

It is the view of our profession that before a decision is made to close any hospital the Ministry of Health ought to consult with District Health Councils or Hospital Planning Councils, where they exist, with the medical profession and with other interested parties. Such discussions could evolve plans for alternative health care facilities for the people in the community and for re-location of hospital personnel.

The medical profession, through the O.M.A., has been most co-operative with your Government in matters affecting the public and the profession. We believe your Government has a responsibility to reciprocate through meaningful consultation on an issue which so seriously affects the public and the profession as does the closing of hospital facilities.

Yours sincerely,
Donald C. MacNeill, B.A., M.D.
President, Ontario Medical Association

You can't make the weak strong by making the strong weaker. Social policies to redistribute income between individuals, development policies to transfer income between regions -- these have increased public spending, raised taxes and caused most of the inflation that the Anti-Inflation Board (AIB) is now called upon to stop.

Despite the billions of dollars spent over the past 20 years there has been no increase in the share of national income going to the bottom 20 per cent of the population. Nor has there been any significant change in regional disparities.

Individual incentive schemes -- such as Opportunities for Youth and the Local Initiatives Program -- were monopolized by the better educated who could manage the paperwork involved. Industry incentive programs are monopolized by the larger firms with the staff to handle them.

Government-sponsored projects in slow growth areas fail to create long-term employment. Inflated government pay scales drain skilled workers from existing businesses. Sub-contracts are usually restricted to union shops. Small businesses are forced to close.

Supporters of permanent wage and price controls accept John Kenneth Galbraith's simplistic proposition that holding down the power groups will enable small firms to grow and expand. But when large companies are forced to reduce prices, smaller competitors will be forced to reduce theirs, too. Companies will not put out money to improve productivity if the AIB stops them from keeping the improved earnings that result.

In February 1976 one Canadian firm lost a $250,000 contract to modernize the Canadian plant of a U.S. company. The AIB would not have permitted the increased earnings resulting from modernization to be transferred to the parent company in the U.S. and the contract was cancelled.

Those Tories!

Bill Smiley

THOSE Tories are something. This column will not appear until after their convention, but I'm still going around shaking my head in amused perplexity.

Theme of the convention seemed to be "Healing old wounds." This phrase came up again and again, as the blood from the old wounds oozed steadily, paying no attention.

Tone of the convention, aside from the theme, seemed to be, "Open new wounds." And they were visible, pouring forth fresh blood.

Not all the pious proclamations of solidarity, working together, and we're-all-brothers-in-the-great-Conservative-party could hide from any viewer that carrying a chiv was the order of the day.

By the time this appears in print, I have no doubt that Joe Clark, the new leader, slick as a seal when he took over, will look more like a porcupine, with all those daggers sticking out of his back.

It's a good thing he weighs only 145 pounds. At least a skinny guy is a smaller target for the knives.

What a scenario! Their leader, Robert Standfield, was stepping down after eight harrowing years trying to get a crowd of mavericks to make sense. He's the best leader the party has had since Robert Borden.

So what do they do as a zippy opening for the convention? They hold a laudatory dinner for John Diefenbaker, who has made things as difficult as possible for Stanfield, since the latter beat him out for the leadership.

Mr. Diefenbaker needed that dinner like he needed a hole in the head. He has been honored quite often enough as the Grand Old Man of the party. And with his ego, he doesn't need anybody to tell him how great he is.

Oh, Stanfield was given a dinner too, but sort of second banana, if he'll pardon the expression. He laid it on the line. Told the Tories present they had to stop the infighting, and get together if they were ever to form a government. That was about as much use as me telling a class of students that if they didn't do their homework, they would fail. Totally ignored.

Next day the cats turned up for the farce. The actors did everything Shakespeare warned the players not to do, in the play Hamlet.

Heward Graftey and Patrick Nowlan sawed the air violently with their hands, shattered it with their mouths, cast their appeal entirely to the groundlings. This, after, like Leacock's hero, leaping each on his horse and riding off in all directions.

John Fraser, a decent-looking chap with about as much charisma as Fred Flintstone, read a speech that would have put to sleep the annual convention of the Women's Institute.

Pretty Boy Mulroney, batting his eyelashes at the cameras, smiled and smiled and made a speech that might have got him a $25 fee on the banquet circuit.

Sinclair Stevens, an old-time image of a Bay St. Tory, bald and rich, made the only attempt to inject a little humor, and it bombed with a crowd which seemed able to applaud only platitudes.

Richard Quittenton from somewhere quit before the balloting began.

Jack Horner should have stayed in a corner, instead of trying to ride the herd back into the 1940s.

Paul Hellyer, defeated for the Liberal leadership, hotly attacked the Prime Minister with vague innuendoes, and completed making an ass of himself by savagely attacking the press, of which he is a working member.

James Gillies, an economics professor, sounded like one, but had the good sense to get out early.

Claude Wagner, formerly beaten for the Liberal leadership in Quebec, and lured into the Tory party with a $300,000 trust fund, proved a master orator, but said virtually nothing.

Joe Clarke, the eventual winner, made one studied joke, then launched into an earnest, dull speech which managed to cover most of the diamond without touching many bases.

Flora McDonald, to my mind, made the most honest speech of the lot. She was simple, but eloquent, warm but strong.

Next day the blood-letting began. Diefenbaker, never one to forget or forgive an insult, real or fancied, remembered that Joe Clarke had worked against him in a leadership campaign, and went to Wagner. Little Jack Horner followed him into that corner, after taking a swing at a reporter. Hellyer, looking as though he'd been sucking a persimmon, joined that middle-aged crowd.

Flora, obviously crushed by the knowledge that hundreds of blatant liars had promised her second-ballot support, went to Clarke, as did most of the others.

Quebec media people claimed there was a gang-up against Wagner. Ridiculous. He got just under half the total vote.

It was scarcely high drama. More like low comedy. But the party has a new leader. He looks like a live one, and his smart (in both senses) young wife should help. But he's going to need a lot of bandages to staunch the old wounds, and the new ones.

I don't know Mr. Clarke, but we have both appeared regularly in the High River Times. Go get 'im, Joe.

Ojibway taught

ELLIOT LAKE -- Elliot Lake Secondary School began offering a new credit course this year as some 20 students undertook the study of written and spoken Ojibway.

Emma Meawasige of the Serpent River Indian Reserve was hired to teach the course which also includes study of Indian culture. Her salary and other costs of the course are being shared by the federal Indian Affairs branch and the North Shore Board of Education.

Bruce Smith, the board's director of education, said the board is also planning to introduce the Ojibway program at W.C. Eaket Secondary School in Blind River this February.

Haliburton Highlights

Patients at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton this week are as follows. Mrs. Stella Walker, Mrs. Irene McMahon, Mr. Milton Loucks, Mrs. Kathleen Nesbitt, Mrs. Marie Dunnill, Mrs. Ruby Mark and baby girl, and Mrs. Christine Barry and baby boy.

The Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, Haliburton are celebrating their Golden Anniversary this year, and are having a draw for a Golden Cadillac. The draw will take place at their annual Legion Carnival to be held on Wednesday, July 23rd. Tickets are on sale now.

Companies interested in reducing on and off the job injuries should enroll now in LIFE (Learn Industrial First Aid Effectively). This project is sponsored by St. John Ambulance and endorsed by Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario and the Accident Prevention Associations.

Haliburton now has another taxi and is known as Garf's Taxi, with twenty-four hour service. The taxi office will be located in the Dawson Insurance Building beside the Haliburton IGA.

Bill Scott, M.P. and John Eakins, M.P.P. will both be taking part in the Rotary Skat-A-Thon to be held at the Minden Arena on April the 9th and 10th.

We are now in the midst of the winter break, and many parents and their children have taken the opportunity to head for the warm climates in the United States. At one time it was big news when someone went to Florida, now everyone goes and it seems to be the thing to do.

C.P. Curphy of Ottawa has devised a new type of home skating rink, made by placing on the ground a one-piece flexible watertight plastic mould. It has a honeycomb inner wall structure on its upper surface, forming a multitude of separate water containers. This produces a skating surface that is smooth and free of "shell-ice", which the patent indicates to be an improvement over presently available rink moulds. The invention is described in Canadian patent 971,762.

This has been a long and hard winter, and we understand that the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and the local Municipalities, are running short on sand. The roads have been icy during the past three months and it has taken a great deal of sand and salt to do the job.

Some people have told us in Haliburton, that they have already had water in their basements. The worst is still to come so be prepared.

In a democracy, every citizen, regardless of his interest in politics, "holds Office"; every one of us is in a position of responsibility; and, in the final analysis, the kind of government we get depends upon how we fulfill those responsibilities. We, the people, are the boss, and we will get the kind of political, leadership, be it good or bad, that we demand and deserve.

Immediate treatment is available to an injured worker if there are trained First Aiders on-the-job. St. John Ambulance says, prompt treatment of an injury can reduce the time an employee is lost to his firm because of an accident.

NOTICE TO CABLE TELEVISION CUSTOMERS IN HALIBURTON VILLAGE

The television industry in Ontario is undergoing a number of changes and many of these changes will take place during the next few months, in fact some have already occurred and we have the channel 11 satellite of CKCO in Kitchener as one example.

In order for us to take advantage of these changes we plan to rebuild and modernize the Haliburton cable system. This work will take place during the coming spring months. From time to time this will entail an interruption of the signal to your home. We plan to keep these interruptions to a minimum and hopefully no one would be without reception for more than a few hours at a time.

When you save energy you save money.

This is what Ontario is doing to help you save.

- improving the heating and cooling systems in government buildings (which has already cut some energy bills by as much as 20%);
- finding ways to improve residential natural gas and oil furnace efficiency;
- constructing and testing a totally solar-heated home;
- reclaiming waste materials to produce energy;
- sending an "Energy Bus" throughout Ontario to do on-the-spot analyses for industry (so far, annual energy cost savings averaging 20% have been identified).

Practical suggestions on ways you can save energy and money are available from your Ontario Government and from energy-supplying companies.

Ability to read an important skill

Barring any physical problems such as poor eyesight, hearing, deficiencies etc., a pupils' learning capabilities are determined by heredity, maturation and experiences in his most formative first six years of life.

An educational system can only expand and build on habits already instilled in the child. Because it is impossible, in a class of 20 to 30 pupils, for a teacher to give the one-to-one attention available from a parent, students are generally grouped with other pupils at their level of ability and achievement. This grouping makes it possible for the child to progress systematically, without undue pressure, at a speed commensurate with his ability.

The ability to read well is such an important skill in all subjects, that remedial reading classes are commonplace at almost every grade level. In the remedial class small groups of students are given assistance in individual problems.

In recent years a great deal of attention has been directed toward the school library or resource centre. Educators realize the importance of providing stimulating, interesting reading material and ensuring that children have quiet time provided for reading books and magazines which interest them. Picture books, novels, paperbacks, magazines, periodicals, comic books and newspapers are all available to catch the eye of the most lethargic reader.

I believe that children today are more accomplished readers than ever before. The sheer weight of the educational load makes it imperative that a child read, and understand, many varied subjects. Nevertheless, too many children lose out because of reading frustration or indifference. They just aren't "Hooked on Books".

What can parents do to ensure that their six year olds will be ready, able and willing to become avid readers?

I want to give you some suggestions; some of my own and a few from profession publications.

1. Have a relaxed home atmosphere where the child feels loved, accepted and respected.
2. Have your child's hearing and sight checked regularly.
3. Avoid using "baby" or "cute" talk. Speak clearly and distinctly.
4. Encourage your child to express himself in conversation and listen to him.
5. Have magazines and books in the home, and let him see you reading them. Set an example!
6. Read to your child and tell him stories.
7. Playing is learning. Play educational games with your child.
8. Take your child on trips. Encourage his interest in new and different people, places and events.
9. Provide colorful picture books, and simple storybooks for your toddler. Encourage him to respect and take care of books at an early age.

Finally remember that habits formed in the first six year of life influence and shape the adult. "The poorest man in the world is the man limited to his own experience, the man who does not read."

OUR WANT ADS ALWAYS WORK

Oppose gov't plan

MILTON, March 11, 1976 - The Christian Farmers Federation of Ontario does not want the voluntary income protection plans that the Davis government has promised in its March 9, Throne Speech.

"Family farmers do not want a voluntary income protection plan," said Elbert Van Donkersgoed, Executive Director of the Federation.

"The vote to reject totally the Government's proposal was unanimous at our March 11 Provincial Board Meeting, he said.

The Federation's Provincial Board is its policy setting body and is made up of delegates from Local Christian Farmers Associations, around the province and of its Executive Board.

Mr. Van Donkersgoed said there were four key reasons why Christian farmers are rejecting the governments proposal:

"If such a plan were really worth anything it would not be voluntary as a farmer would have to join if he wanted to stay in business."

"Such a plan would bring us, Ontario farmers, via our organizations, into constant confrontation with our government in an effort to establish better protection levels."

"Such a plan would lead to greater instability because government policies tend to be more erratic than the market place. For example, the recent federal government policy changes for industrial milk have been the most erratic parts of the dairy industry in years."

"Such plans would make it even more difficult to establish good national stabilization programs."

"We do not know who our government has been listening to but it is certainly out of touch with our family farmers across this province. We hope that it is not yet too late to redirect our governments financing into programs of greater benefit to the agricultural industry", said Mr. Van Donkersgoed.

Be it resolved this council strongly oppose any proposed transfer or change of the present District Municipal Engineer, Mr. R.B. Allison from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. This opposition is more seriously supported during a year in which Provincial expenditure restraint programs are being introduced, creating an increasing need for experienced guidance at the provincial level from personnel familiar with local problems relating to road construction or maintenance. Council therefore requests the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to re-consider the proposed change or transfer of our present District Municipal Engineer and favourably decide to retain Mr. R.B. engineer. Carried.

(b) No suggestion has been made by Dysart to assist with paving of east end of runway. They did, however, offer to do clearing of trees at the east end of the runway to improve the approach from a safety viewpoint.

(c) The Township of Stanhope has no plans for improving the runway other than drainage work to that portion of the runway where seasonal runoffs render the airport unserviceable.

(d) The council of the Township of Stanhope has no plans to pave the existing runway or install equipment for night approaches. Consideration would only be given to paving if sufficient grants made this a feasibility.

(c) The clerk will collate figures to show total financial support to the Airport over the past years.

Fishing results on Lake Scugog

During January and February Conservation Officers on scheduled creel census checks contacted a local of 572 anglers, who were using 989 lines and fished for a total of 1692 hours. The anglers catch of yellow pickerel consisted of 136 fish. The rate of success for these months is .08 pickerel per hour or 12 hours of effort for each fish caught. Last years average for the same period was .02 pickerel per hour or 55 hours of effort for each fish caught. The fishing this year is far more productive than last year.

The average size of the fish being taken is around 15 inches or 1½ pounds.

To date 185 huts have been registered for fishing on Lake

Scugog.

A final reminder to all anglers that the fishing season for pickerel closes as of March 31, 1976 and that is also the date that all huts must be removed from the lake surface.

Eight area lakes surveyed

Eight lakes in Environment Ontario's Central Region will be surveyed this year as part of the Ministry's annual Cottage Pollution Program.

Private sewage disposal systems will be inspected on Loon, Turtle, Ril and Muldrew Lakes in the District Municipality of Muskoka; Lake St. John in Simcoe County, and Methuen, Kasshabog and Oak Lakes in Peterborough County. The surveys will be carried out by university or community college students supervised by Ministry personnel. Five staff from the Gravenhurst district office will survey the first five lakes and five staff from Peterborough district office the latter three.

Since the establishment of the Cottage Pollution Control Program in 1970, thousands of private sewage treatment systems have been examined on lakes across the province and, when necessary, improvements have been ordered by the Ministry.

During the 1975 summer season Ministry staff surveyed cottages on three lakes, totalling 1,427 sewage disposal systems, and on six lakes, totalling 1,448 disposal systems, respectively.

The lakes surveyed by the Peterborough staff were Canal, Mitchell and Dalrymple Lakes in Victoria County. Of the private sewage disposal systems inspected on three lakes, 19.4 per cent were found to be satisfactory. A further 44.9 per cent were seriously substandard (in a state of neglect and potentially hazardous) and 25.6 per cent were nuisances (wash water and/or solid waste directly escaping onto ground surface). A total of 7.4 per cent were found to be direct polluters, a situation where sewage is contaminating the ground water or reaching the lake either by direct discharge through a pipe or ditch or over the ground surface. A final 2.7 per cent were unable to be classified for such reasons as owner absenteeism and classification complexities.

$4 million

UCO members

Mississauga ... Some $4,089,622 is now being returned to the members of United Co-operatives of Ontario in the form of patronage. UCO's Board has authorized patronage of $4,089,622 to be distributed to UCO's 42,000 direct and corporate members across the province. $1,363,208 in the form of cash and $2,726,414 in common shares.

Through the allocation of patronage, UCO is able to return to its member-patronage part of its net savings.

Patronage returns are important, but are not the only measure of the value of the co-operative. UCO is operated in the interest of the members who own and control it and serves its members and patrons best by setting the pace with competitive prices, top quality supplies and improved services.

United Co-operatives of Ontario is the largest farm supply and marketing co-operative in Ontario, with sales of over $258 million in 1975.

Ministry auction

Conservation Officers of the Ministry of Natural Resources Central Region have, in the enforcement of the various game and fish laws confiscated rods, reels, firearms and other assorted items such as coolers, dip nets and fishing lures from game and fish violators. These items will go on the auction block April 10, 1976.

The over 600 items were confiscated for various offences, from hunting or angling without a licence to market hunting for deer. These seizures are held in ministry vaults until there is sufficient number to hold an auction. All monies derived from the sale of seized equipment is deposited into the Provincial Treasury.

The auction will be held at: Ministry of Natural Resources, District Office, Dufferin St. ½ mile north of Major MacKenzie Drive Maple, Ontario

Saturday, April 10, 1976
9:00 a.m. SHARP

Persons wishing to view these items prior to the auction may do so at the above address from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Thursday and Friday April 8 and 9.

Report from Queen's Park

by John Eakins

This week in the Legislature, the two Opposition Leaders participated in the Debate on the Speech from the Throne. Both Leaders strongly criticised the Provincial Government, particularly for the policy of arbitrarily closing down hospitals in the Province. The Government anticipated saving some $40-50 million a year by closing or cutting back ten hospitals, and the closures are being carried out with little apparent concern for the impact on the communities in which the hospitals are located. In the case of the psychiatric hospitals at Goderich and Timmins, these are to be used as centres for the mentally retarded, to some extent. The Opposition maintain that the Government has not proved that the savings claimed will in fact result from the hospital closures, nor given a satisfactory rationale for cutbacks in hospital beds and staff in 69 other hospitals.

It was also mentioned that if the province had held the private medical laboratory industry to a 15% increase in its annual billings to the Ontario Health Insurance Plan, about $65 million would have been saved, $35 million of it this year. The cut-backs on transfer payments to municipalities were also discussed, and reference was made to the commitment given at the Edmonton Tri-level Conference in 1973, when the then Treasurer of Ontario said that the Ontario Government gave a guarantee to the province's local governments that in the future assistance from the Provincial Government to the municipalities would grow at a rate not less than the growth rate of Ontario's total revenue. Now, it seems, the government is going back on this commitment because at a time when the dollar is depreciating at 10%, ceilings of 5.5% and 3.1% are being imposed.

Both Opposition Leaders put forward amendments to the Throne Speech criticising the government for lack of responsibility in forcing school boards and municipalities to increase property taxes to home owners and tenants, for lack of financial responsibility generally, and for the cut backs on hospitals and laboratories.

If the Opposition Parties should join together to vote for the amendment and sub-amendment which have been proposed, the minority government will be defeated. The vote on the Throne Speech will be taken before April 6th, when it had been anticipated the Provincial Budget would be brought down. The Premier and Treasurer have both said that there is no intention of advancing the date of budget presentation.

Also at Queen's Park this week, Richard Smith, Liberal M.P.P. for Nipissing told a Legislature Committee reviewing additional health ministry estimates that some Ontario hospital pathologists receive a percentage of health insurance payments for laboratory tests, and are earning more than $150,000 a year. He urged the Health Minister to place pathologists on salaries geared to the size of the labs which they head and the amount of work performed. The Minister did not deny the high incomes, but added that there are a number of income arrangements between hospitals and pathologists.

The Attorney-General has indicated that he does not think there should be a public inquiry into the Ontario private lab industry if criminal charges result from investigations into Abko Medical Laboratory Ltd. An inquiry might interfere with police charges, and in any event any decision to carry out an inquiry would have to be made by cabinet. He said that the decision with regard to laying charges would be made within about a week. The investigations into Abko resulted from stories that the firm's records indicate the Ontario Health Insurance Plan had been billed for tests on patients which were, in fact, never carried out.

New legislation

Simplified

"One of the greatest problems faced by the taxpayer or his Tax Advisors is trying to sort through and understand the complexities of Tax Legislation", Arthur Meen, Minister of Revenue, said today. "Over the past year, I have committed my Ministry to implementing a comprehensive program to simplify much of Ontario's revenue legislation. Introduced amendments to the succession duty act today which represent another important step toward our objectives of tax clarification and simplification."

Clearing Small Estates

"Of greatest significance to the general public is the elimination and raising of limits where people need my Ministry's consent before they can gain access to insurance policies, bank accounts or pension payments."

"Should these amendments be passed, it will no longer be necessary for a spouse to obtain releases for any amount payable under insurance policies or from pension plans. In the case of bank accounts, up to $5,000 may be similarly withdrawn. For those other than the spouse, insurance companies may release up to $11,500 and banks may permit withdrawals of up to $5,000. These changes would go a long way toward creating a more speedy and responsive system for clearing and processing estates."

Farm Estates

"Land held in farming is another area dealt with in this package of proposed amendments. Last year, duty on farms passing to members of the family was allowed to be written off at the rate of 10 per cent per year. Therefore, at the end of 10 years, if the land was still farmed by the family, no succession duty need be paid. However, an anomaly existed, in that previously it took 25 years for the tax to be forgiven. This proposed amendment will affect estates of those farmers who left farm estates during the nearly two-year period since April '73 to April '75 when this 10-year write-off came into effect. We estimate that perhaps as many as 300 farmers' estates will benefit from this change."

Foreign Art Exhibits

"Thirdly," Mr. Meen pointed out, "Ontario's Succession Duty Act, inadvertently, discourages International Art Collectors from exhibiting or loaning their works to Ontario Art Galleries or Museums, because their property here would be taxed in the event of the death of the owner while the exhibit was on loan in Ontario. Understandably foreign collectors are reluctant to exhibit here and face the possibility of substantial Ontario Tax liabilities. If these amendments are approved, these exhibits will no longer attract tax. This action parallels similar legislation in many countries."

Loopholes

Several other adjustments are proposed to the Act, which will serve to minimize the effectiveness of certain sophisticated methods of tax avoidance. These include plugging certain loopholes whereby, in some cases, foreign real estate passed in Ontario residents tax free and estate foreign property owned by an Ontario resident was allocated to foreign beneficiaries again with no tax being paid. Also, the method of valuing income interests in Wills would be changed.

"In addition", Mr. Meen added, "I hope, in the next few months, to be able to present to the Legislature a Bill that will greatly simplify the rate structure of the Succession Duty Act. I will want to ensure that this further simplification will not be made at the expense of needed revenue for the Province and the studies necessary to determine this have not yet been evaluated. But, if these amendments are approved by the Legislature, we will have done much to inject a certain amount of equity, simplicity and humanity into the Act."

Gems of Truth

The Christian Life

Christianity is not simply a set of rules to live by. It is a life lived by a revelation of God's love in His Son, Jesus, which meets the need of a fallen and ruined race of mankind. Thus the Gospel is the glad news of salvation to be had in the Son, who is able to forgive sins, bring justification and deliverance to the guilty, condemned captives of all manner of evil.

The first concern of any person should be to be right with God. This is the focal point of the Christian life. It must begin with a call to repentance toward God. This was the teaching and theology of John the Baptist, Christ and Paul. Moral issues, Christian duties and proper conduct are not the first things to give attention to, but personal rightness with God. The question of salvation is not right morality theology, ritualism and religion, but the question of the Son of God. What men do with Jesus, determines their salvation or their damnation.

Thus all Christian experience and Christian living has its source in the Lord Jesus Christ. Men, first of all, have to settle the issue of a personal, right attitude, toward Christ. Christian morality and duty spring from a proper relation with the Saviour. In the forgiven sinner, the Lord Jesus dwells and lives His life through the presence and power of the Holy Spirit.

The person who is truly a Christian is dead unto sin and the old self-life. The new life imparted upon being forgiven, brings new desires for righteous living and so the spontaneous result is, that the Christian is now able to show forth the graces, virtues and desires of the Lord God to holy living. This is more than mere human effort, more than mere mechanical performance of Christian duty. It is the Divine Life, possessing, empowering, making alive, and enabling the believer to live above the plane of the self-life, worldliness, weakness and defeat, Philippians 4:13.

The truly Christian life is not a tiresome duty, nor an irksome task, or a lifeless ritualistic performance and burdensome task, but a real pleasure and delight. It is a spontaneous, supernatural life. The saved sinner can say, "Christ liveth in me", Galatians 2:20. He finds it his joy and pleasure to live for his Saviour and Lord, Philippians 1:21. He finds the Word of God to be his daily spiritual food, 1 Peter 2:1-2, and prayer the very outbreathing of the Holy Spirit's in-working, Romans 8:26. The assembly and meeting house becomes a place of spiritual refreshing, Hebrews 10:25.

Such inward joy and peace, gives the truly born-again Christian a freedom he had never experienced before. That hard, rigid, "must" to things is gone. His life is free, easy, spontaneous and glad. He finds giving of his means to extend the cause of Christ, the very outflow of Divine grace in the heart, 2 Corinthians 8:1-5. The Christian so moved by the overflowing well sprung up within his cleansed soul, is possessed by the very energy, life and passion of the Son of God his Saviour.

Thus is the life of a real Christian. His heart is warm and burning, his spirit is aglow and his understanding is illuminated by the indwelling Holy Spirit. Therefore, he goes forth, not simply trying to be a Christian, but yielding his life to God and letting Him live in and through him. The secret of a full and happy Christian life, is a full surrender to the indwelling Christ. He alone can bring forth the fruit of salvation and make a life complete and useful. Are you enjoying your Christian life to the full? If not, why not let Jesus take it over?

Halls Lake news

Both good news and sad news have come to us at Hall's Lake this week.

First the Good News:

Mrs. Doreen Stinson is home once again after surgery at Peterborough. She still has to be off her feet and to be very careful. But she is at home and we are happy that she is there.

Mrs. Louise Watson and Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson are back from their Holiday. We have not seen them as yet, but reports say that they are very enthusiastic about their good vacation in Cuba.

And.... our snow is fast disappearing. Spring now seem to be just around the corner. Warm sunshine and blue skies are indeed very welcomed.

And the sad news which has shocked us all is the sudden death in Florida of Mr. Wm. Mole. Our hearts and our prayers go out to Laura and to Garth and Wanda in their great loss of husband and father. We shall all miss his cheery smile, his enthusiasm and his great joy of life.

Each Wednesday morning at 10:30, a group of Ladies meet at the home of the Bill Gartshore's or Marje Johnson, for an hour of Bible Study and a cup of coffee. We would gladly welcome any lady who would like to share a happy hour with us.

BARRY, Ida - In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away suddenly March 14th, 1973.

Two tired eyes are sleeping
Two willing hands are still
For one who suffered far too much
Is resting in God's will.
We had no time to say goodbye
Perhaps its just as well,
We never could have said goodbye
To one we loved so well.

Always be remembered by Mervin, Lois and children.

SIMS - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Bev, who passed away March 24th, 1961.

It only takes a little space
To write how much we miss you
But it will take the rest of our lives
To forget the day we lost you

Sadly missed by Shirley, Sandy and Terry.

SIMS - In loving memory of a dear father, Beverleigh, who passed away March 24th, 1961.

Things I feel most deeply are the hardest things to say,
Dearest Dad I love you in a very special way.
If I could have some lifetime wish, one dream that could come true,
I would pray to God with all my heart for yesterday with you.

Sadly missed by daughter Helen, Ross

SIMS - In loving memory of my dear husband, Bev, who passed away March 24th, 1961.

As time unfolds another year
Memories keep you ever near,
Silent thoughts of times together
Hold memories that will last forever.

Lovingly remembered by wife Toots.

holds the real estate. Brown Camps Residential and Day Schools, should be wound up, he said in his declaration, "it seems unclear to those assets."

The "explicitly charitable and educational purposes of that corporation" were deleted from the company objectives in 1968, he said, "and I would be most disturbed if that technical change would permit the members of Brown Camps Residential and Day Schools to claim that they had a residual claim to the assets."

FEWER THAN 10

"I have been unable to determine who those members are, but I believe them to be fewer than 10 in number."

Sorbie claimed the Browndale International Corporation has leased an aircraft to Browndale (Ontario) and the Brown real estate corporation for a minimum of $3,200 a month and that "the aircraft in question was used by Mr. John Brown for flights outside the province of Ontario which were not taken in connection with the program of Browndale (Ontario)."

He alleged that Browndale (Ontario) has leased for about $8,400 a month 10 houses in the Donvale area of Toronto "and yet there are no children within the Browndale program using these houses."

He submitted documents to the attorney-general's office indicating that the houses are owned by Jack C. Oelbaum and Daniel Perlitz. Perlitz, Sorbie asserts, has been closely associated with John Brown and was involved in the property management structure of Browndale (Ontario). The leases are for 10 years he claims.

Sorbie claims that directors' meetings of Browndale International "purportedly held" on Oct. 27 and Oct. 31, 1975, and supposed to have authorized purchase of various properties by one Browndale company from another and said to have authorized John Brown to negotiate the sale of all Browndale International property to Brown Camps Residential and Day Schools, "were never held and never properly constituted."

In an accompanying letter to McMurtry, William Rosenfield, Sorbie's lawyer, said that "we have come to the conclusion that there is evidence to support Mr. Sorbie's concerns" and that it is "your responsibility as representative Her Majesty the Queen in right of Ontario to take such action as you might consider appropriate following upon the results of an investigation."

Rosenfield's letter cites a number of legal judgments to support the claim that both Browndale (Ontario) and Brown Camps Residential and Day Schools are charities.

John Brown came from the United States in the 1960's to pioneer the group home concept for troubled children in Ontario. At one time, Stephen Lewis, leader of the Ontario New Democratic Party was national director of Browndale. He resigned in 1968.

The Government has repeatedly refused to give full financial details of its dealings with Browndale and in June, 1974, Health Minister Frank Miller termed allegations about Browndale's extensive land holdings "a red herring."

Sorbie told the Star that while Browndale (Ontario) gets $65 a day for each child in its care, the different regions of the organization get only $32.50 a day.

"The taxpayers are paying for Browndale and are entitled to know what's going on," Sorbie said. "I want some kind of inquiry to get these answers."
